

Run Late

Alarms wake you up. This one gets you out.

The alarm with no off button.
You don't turn it off. You leave.

Run Late is not for people who oversleep. It's for those who wake up on time, get ready, and still lose the last ten minutes at the door — whether that's work, school, the gym, or a morning dog walk. It fires at the exact minute you need to leave, and there is no dismiss button on the screen. The only way to stop it is to walk 150 feet away from your front door. The moment GPS confirms the distance, the sound stops. Every morning is recorded, and the record can't be faked.
